Welcoming statements from teams

Chairs

We, the Chairwomen and Chairmen, welcome you to the GLOMUN Conference 2016. We want to thank you for participating in this conference and hope that it will be a unique experience for you. The United Nations is currently the most important supranational political organisation on this planet. Consequently, its importance for us as global citizens is unquestionable.

In order to find solutions to pressing problems of our time, we encourage you to actively participate in the debates and represent your country by being the best delegates possible. In the first days of the GLOMUN conference you will have time for intense debates with a rather regional perspective in your regional committees. There will be five different committees: Africa, Asia and the Pacific, Europa and Others, Latin America and the Caribbean and The Greater Middle East. Two to three chairs are going to chair each committee and will lead you through the conference.

Due to months of preparation, in which we as chairs became acquainted with the general process of our conference and the rules of procedure, we will be your contact person in terms of questions concerning the procedure. Don't hesitate to approach us if you have a question or feel uncertain about any topic. Wishing this conference to become a great experience for all of us, we feel obliged to make sure every delegate is familiar with the rules of procedure.

We are looking forward to having a great conference with fruitful debates, professional political dialogues and favourable resolutions in the end!

Your Chair Team

Admin-Team

We are the Administration Team, which consists of about 65 people. Our main task is to guide you through the conference and enable you to communicate with your fellow delegates. We have prepared the registration, the material for the conference itself as well as the Assembly Hall. If you need anything during the conference we are ready to help you. If you have lost anything, just contact us. We are looking forward to helping you.

Your Admin Team

Press Team

We are the Press team of this years GLOMUN. During the conference our job is it to take pictures and write articles about the conference in general. We will edit a newspaper on the last day of the conference. Our reporters will be sitting in the committees and will not only interview the guest speakers, but also many delegates, asking for their opinion on some of the topics discussed and we will ask you for short statements about the conference.

Your Press team

Catering Team

The picture above shows the Catering Team for the GLOMUN 2016, consisting of about 60 students of the European School Bertha-von-Suttner. Our aim is to make the event as pleasant as possible for you by providing you with self-cooked lunch each day and by serving refreshments and cookies during the conference. Please use your vouchers each day to get your lunch.

We are looking forward to the GLOMUN conference and wish you a stimulating and delightful conference as well as a pleasant stay in Berlin!

Your Catering Team

DVD Team

We are a small but extremely dedicated and enthusiastic DVD-Team. Our team consists of 7 motivated team members. Before the conference itself our task was to make a trailer for the GLOMUN which will be shown at the opening ceremony. We had to write a script for this trailer and organize many things including cameras, accessories and dates to film with everybody. Our goal was to make a funny and welcoming trailer.

Our main task is to make a GLOMUN film and to edit a movie after the conference for the participants. During the GLOMUN conference we will be recording numerous sequences such as the committee sessions and interviews with the other team members. This will then be put into our final movie. We hope you will like our trailer and remember that no step will be unseen :)

Your DVD Team

Technical Staff

We are the technical staff which means that we care about all the technical equipment at the GLOMUN conference. We hope that you will not see us because then everything is running smoothly. And we hope that you will enjoy the event. If you have any questions, e.g. if you have any questions, just ask us.

Your Technical Staff

Housing Team

- We are the GLOMUN Housing Team. It was our responsibility to find host families for our international guest students. We hope that you will enjoy the time with your host family. If you need anything or if you have any questions concerning your housing, you can always contact us via the phone numbers that we handed out when you arrived in Berlin. We wish you a wonderful time in Berlin.

Welcoming statement from the coach

Dear all,

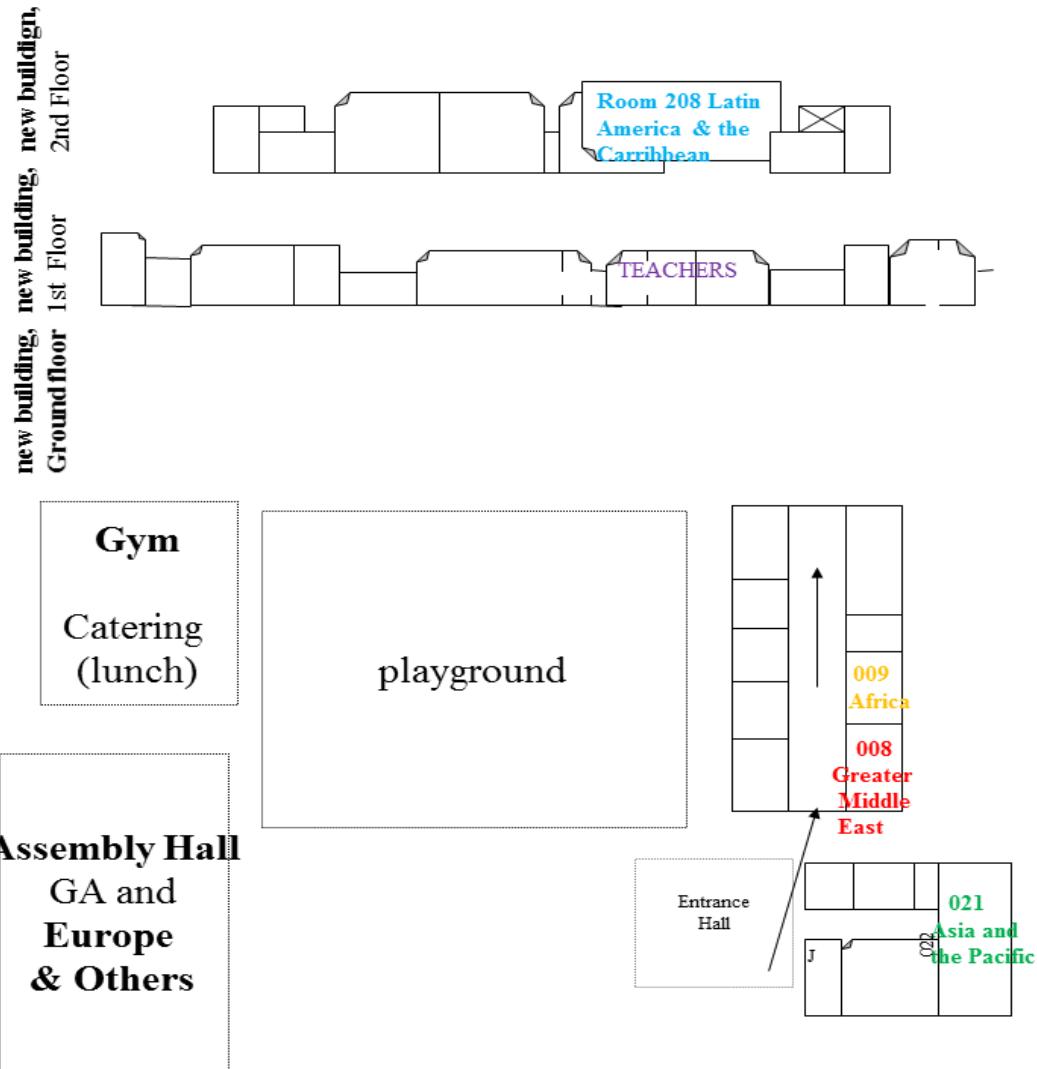

I am looking forward to this year's conference with great expectations as it is going to deal with a global and extremely topical issue namely the question how to achieve peace in a globalized world. This question is especially difficult to answer when looking at terrorism itself.

Working collaboratively in a spirit of mutual respect, unity and self-restraint has been the UN's original aim to free mankind from the "scourge of war which had brought untold sorrow to mankind".

I hope that this conference will serve to better understand the need of joint government involvement, the intricacies of world affairs as well as the limitations but also chances of governments' involvement to bring about peace as well as humanitarian aid. I wish you lively and intense debates in the spirit of the UN!

Yours Melanie Brehm (coach)
